Resting in its 150-foot shaft, topped by a nuclear warhead, is the 103-foot-tall missile.

Hershey tests an emergency respirator capable of generating its own oxygen supply.

As part of their duties, Brewster and Hershey follow the manual to inspect equipment throughout the complex.

Buried within concrete silos across America are the Titan II ICBM's (Inter-Continental Ballistics Missile), a deterrent to enemy attack.

Around-the-clock, each four-man crew's tour of thirty hours is filled with continual examinations, checks, tests and inspections of all systems of the underground complex, including the control room and missile firing area. Rigid safeguards are in effect to prevent any acts of firing by independent decision.

The crew members, chosen after exhaustive security checks and other tests for stability, work with precision to maintain the "ready" stage of operations. Each man, in event of accident, can do the work of their partners.

It is units such as this shown, located near Morrilton, Arkansas, one of many throughout the country, which keep the threat of war at a minimum.

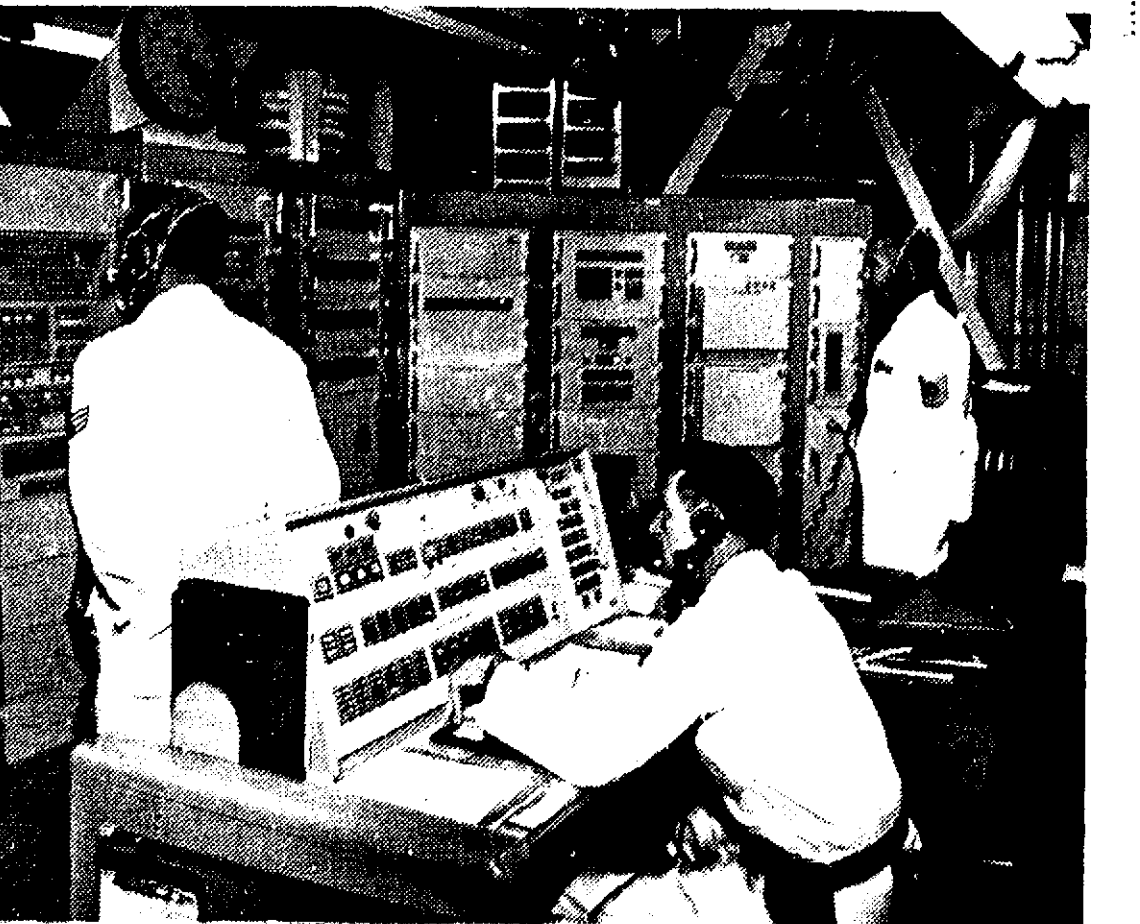

MUSCLE

Ready to travel 6,000 miles if necessary on its two-stage delivery system, the "thin-skin" missile rises past the nine working levels to the silo roof.

The new crew receives its briefing from their commanding officer, Major William D. Aull, far right. 1st Lt. Ronald Blake, left, wears a sidearm as part of his job.

With all units participating, a run-through of the operational equipment is performed.

Canton Trade

Fair Postponed

HONG KONG (AP) — The biannual Canton trade fair, Communist China's show window to the western world, has been postponed because of bloody street fighting, travelers arriving from China's second biggest city reported today.

Television and Radio

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hot noon sun was pushing the thermometer over the 100-degree mark and it was humid. But winter had come to "Peyton Place."

Workmen, some stripped to the waist, were building snowbanks, creating snow drifts, frosting summer-blooming shrubs with white and steaming up the windows of the book shop, the newspaper office and even Dr. Rossi's second floor office.

For the next couple of months, the actors will suffer through their pancake makeup, stomping around the fake snow in heavy overcoats and galoshes, shivering and rubbing mittened hands.

From the beginning of the program three seasons back, the evening soap opera has matched its outdoor scenes to seasonal change in New England. Currently they are shooting episodes which will be broadcast in December.

The heart of Peyton Place is a permanent outdoor set on the 20th Century-Fox lot. At its center is a little park.

On one side is the studio commissary whose facade also doubles as the entrance to the Peyton Place hospital; on the other are the false-front shops of the town. The trees in the park are fake, and when summer comes on, the workmen attach—one by one—fake leaves. These have been removed now, just as carefully, and the boughs and limbs artfully dusted with finely minced white silicone.

The piles of slightly grimy plowed snow at the sides of the road are convincing. Their construction starts with rows of heavy paper sacks filled with shredded foam rubber to give them shape. These are covered with excelsior, watered down, and held in place with chicken wire. Then the form is covered with white gypsum plaster.

Cotton batting and white sheening are used to reproduce snow rolls on roofs. Steam on the inside of windows is achieved by sprayed plastic.

But not even the studio magicians can simulate steam on the breath of the actors. Everything, from cigarette smoke to spray mists, has been tried but nothing works.

"When you see steam as actors talk," said Everett Chambers, producer of the series, "You know that they are really working cold."

Greg Morris plays an election wizard on CBS' "Mission: Impossible" and rigs up marvelously complicated devices with transistors, tubes, microphones and wires for clock-and-dagger exploits. He is obviously a competent actor because he bitterly disappointed a fan of the show last week.

The Morris family's television set went dark, and Greg happened to be home when the repairman arrived to fix it. The specialist took one look at the set and a longer one at the performer, as helpless as the next civilian in such a crisis.

A DEADLY SERIOUS BUSINESS is lawn bowling in England, where women have taken to the sport traditionally done by elderly males in that country. Showing her concentration and enthusiasm for the sport, in the top three photographs, a lady bowler reacts to the path of her ball with anxiety, a little body English, and a bit of graphic afterthought. In grim portrait in the bottom picture, other ladies at the Women's National Amateur Bowling Championships at Wimbledon Park await their turn.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

HE'S "BLUSHFUL"

Dear Helen: I have the sweetest boy friend in the world. He says he loves me when we're alone, but he acts like he doesn't want other people to know it. Let's put it this way. He's very bluish. I'm his first girl friend. When we're around other people, he acts like he doesn't know me. Please tell me how to get him over his bluishness. — LOVER-GIRL

Dear Girl: If you'll stop saying "love" when you mean "like" and start acting more friendly than possessive, your young blusher will soon grow out of the "bluish" stage. He's afraid of teasing, that's all. — H

Dear Helen: I'm going with a real nice girl. The problem is she's getting too serious. We're only freshmen, but she's already talking about marriage.

If I break up, it will raise all heck with everybody because they pair us off as very steady steadies.

I don't like her as much as I used to, but how do I get out of this? — STUCK

Dear Stuck: Tell her the truth—she's getting too serious, and you aren't. She'll be hurt for a while, but this is better than drifting into an entanglement that neither of you really want. — H

Dear Helen: A while back I read in your column a letter from a girl whose boy friend told her that he treated her with respect because he loved her. Well, the next night I told my girl the same thing and you know what? We've never been this close, or happier. When the guy sets limits, the girl really appreciates it. And the guy feels better about it, too. — JOHNNY

Dear Helen: I'm a girl in my early teens. For the past four years, my Mom has been going out with other men. When she goes out, she doesn't come back for a week or two; then I take over the household. It's not so simple because I have four younger brothers and sisters.

My Dad doesn't know what to do about it. My problem is, how can I get Mom to be like she used to be? — MISERABLE

Dear Miserable: Has your father tried to do something about this? Your mother needs psychiatric help, and if that fails, he should consult a lawyer. A man must consider his own and his children's mental health, as well as his erring wife's. — H

Dear Helen: I just love those fake letters you publish once in a while. I was wondering, why not have a contest to see who can write the most original "hoax"? Then you could publish a column of them every month. — DIANNE

Dear Dianne: Please!!! If I did that, I'd get nothing but hoaxes, and after all, this column is called "Helen HELP US!" not "Helen Fool Us." You kids send me enough funny phonies without running a contest! — H

Dear Helen: This may sound a little different, coming from a boy. I don't like promiscuous girls. I would never marry one that was "easy." But how is a boy to know unless he tries? The girls get mad because we make advances. They ought to realize we're just testing them. But instead, they think they've got to give in or they won't be asked out again.

Would you please tell these stupid girls to stop being pushovers? — A GUY

Not Interested in Politics

APACHELAND, Ariz. (AP)—Actor Robert Taylor, who took over as host of "Death Valley Days" from California Gov. Ronald Reagan, said he has no thought of trying to follow Reagan into politics.

"Ronnie's got troubles like the kind I can live without," he said on location here. "Besides, I'd hate to wait for the legislature to go on vacation before I could go fishing."

Baez Serenades the Hippies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Folksinger Joan Baez sat on the sidewalk in Haight-Ashbury hippieville Thursday and serenaded hippies and tourists in a spontaneous concert.

"Somebody said 'play something,' so I borrowed a guitar and it was the first time I used a psychedelic pick," Joan said, pointing to a multicolored pick. The brief concert was part of the wealthy singer's four-day visit to the place of origin of the hippie subculture.

Human Error Blamed for Derailment

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Human error today was blamed by the State Public Utilities Commission as the primary cause of the Mt. Washington Cog Railway derailment which took the lives of eight persons Sunday.

A preliminary report prepared and released by PUC transportation director Winslow Melvin said: "It is our conclusion that the primary cause of the accident was human error and not due to any structural or mechanical deficiency of the railroad."

"It has been established beyond doubt that the switch at the Skyline Station was not in the proper position at the time of the mishap."

"It is our conclusion that it was the duty of the crew... to notice this fact and to stop the train prior to its entering the switch."

Melvin, chief investigator of the crash, said that "while the train crew responsible for changing the switch insists that the switch was properly closed by them, and while the conjecture has been raised that possibly a hiker changed the position of the switch afterward, we can come to no positive conclusions as to the exact facts of the matter in this preliminary investigation."

A trail intersects the track where the train left the clogged track, allowing the car, filled with sightseers, to free-wheel down the mountainside. The car left the track at a curve and landed on its side on a slope. The report states that the car has a seating capacity of 56 and later says "there were approximately 83 persons in the car."

Priest Wants U.S. Aid to Be Withheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The white priest leading open housing demonstrations in Milwaukee, Wis., says the federal government should cut off all aid to cities which practice discrimination "such as Milwaukee."

The Rev. James E. Groppi said he told the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders Thursday: "The federal government has to use its muscle and cut off funds. We're not interested in urban development if it means the black man has to give up his God-given right of freedom of movement."

He has led demonstrations in Milwaukee since Aug. 28. He told newsmen "unless the nonviolent-type demonstrations work, I can no longer say to the black man that this is the type of maneuver and tactic you must use."

Father Groppi said he'd "have to wait and see" before deciding if he will advocate violence as a last resort. "I don't like to see blood shed, but I don't know," he said. "Morally, I have no argument against the black man's right to use violence. Tactically, I'll have to wait and see."

Ernie Chambers, a Negro Civil rights leader from Neb., said he told the commission to recommend that federal funds be withdrawn from cities like Omaha and Milwaukee.

"This would compel cities to come up to federal standards of integration," he said. "They know that the federal government doesn't enforce the laws, so they discriminate."

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, testifying on civil rights legislation before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee, said more federal laws are needed because some state and local law enforcement agencies have not done their duty.

The House-passed measure would make it a federal crime to harm or threaten civil rights workers or individuals exercising their rights.

Daughter of Chaplin Is Barred

NEW YORK (AP) — Geraldine Chaplin, 23-year-old daughter of Charlie Chaplin, is barred from appearing on the Broadway stage—temporarily at least.

She was to have appeared in a forthcoming revival of the drama "The Little Foxes" at the Beaumont Theater in Lincoln Center.

Instead, she left Thursday for Madrid—after discovery that she came here on a British passport, a fact which classified her as an alien actress.

Alien players may be hired only by mutual agreement, under the contract between Lincoln Center and Actors Equity union.

Miss Chaplin, who was born in Santa Monica, Calif., but has lived in Europe since childhood, was cast for a part in "The Little Foxes" in the belief that she was a U. S. citizen, said Jules Irving, executive director of the Beaumont Theater. Because of this belief, no clearance was sought, Irving said.

Beaumont officials were unable to say whether Miss Chaplin ever had a U. S. passport.

Daughter to Get Award for Reagan

PARAMUS, N.J. (AP) — Margaret Reagan, 26-year-old daughter of California Gov. Ronald Reagan, continues her tour of the East Coast today with two appearances in New Jersey.

She appears at a Metropolitan Detention Crime Clinic luncheon here, to receive an award for her father.

Tonight, there will be a reception in her honor in Lodi. She is representing a political education organization called the Constitutional Alliance which she said provides information on "how to win elections."

Percy Says Policy Wrong Constantly

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles H. Percy charges the "constant" been wrong, ever since we started, in its public assessments of the war in Vietnam.

Percy, rated a potential contender for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, said his complaint will stand after people forget the assertion of Michigan Gov. George Romney that Romney was once brainwashed about the war.

Romney, waging an undeclared campaign for the nomination, has declined in public opinion poll reports since he made that statement in explaining his shift from support to criticism of the original U.S. move into South Vietnam. He and Percy met briefly this week at a Chicago airport.

"I think that Gov. Romney had an unfortunate choice of words," Percy said in an interview recorded for broadcast in Illinois. "And I think this will be forgotten over a period of time. But I do think there has been a question as to whether we've had the truth and the whole truth at all times about Vietnam," Percy said. "The east-mates of where we stand, of what we can accomplish, of what the war will cost, have constantly been wrong, ever since we started."

"And I do feel there is a great problem of credibility involved with Vietnam and the administration," he said. Percy said nothing directly about the talk of his standing as a possible presidential contender less than two years after his first election, victory. He has said repeatedly he is not a candidate for the nomination, but has also declared he will seek to go to the 1968 GOP national convention as Illinois' favorite son.

Deaf Mute to Adopt Child

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A deaf mute couple has won permission to adopt a 2-year-old boy after battling through the courts for more than a year.

"We are very happy to get our baby back," said aircraft worker Wayne Christensen, 47, and his wife, Madeline, 43, of Torrance, Calif., through a sign language interpreter.

The couple became foster parents of the child, blue-eyed, red-haired Scott James Richardson, when he was one month old.

Their petition for adoption when he was nine months was turned down by a judge on ground they could not provide a normal home for the boy who has normal hearing.

The decision was reversed by the State Court of Appeals last May 22 and the California Supreme Court upheld the appellate court. Formal permission for adoption was granted Tuesday in Superior Court.

Youth Beat

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

Collapse of the Bosom: Bra makers worry about Twiggy look. A number of bras now being manufactured flatten (not flatter) the bosom. Male population still votes for the real girl look. The bosom decline dates way back to Renaissance when petite Botticelli beauties overtook the buxom Venus-type. Victorian ladies loved the hourglass look but the full bosom collapsed again in the 1920s. The fashion folks dimly recalled for a bandaged-down-flat kind of look. What clamps interest though is that the revival of such a look originates at the teen level but is being promoted to young adult and adolescent groups. Again demonstrates the tremendous influence teens have on older fashion directions: you could say they are the very foundation itself.

U. S. Education Mess: While Puff and Jane play their silly games, the world outside the aseptic schoolroom rolls right on by students. The action in Vietnam and other real issues should be main concerns and Valley Forge allowed to take its proper place as past history. The incredible "gap" between test, teaching, teen understanding and the real world is a serious, gaping gap. Equally damaging to students—one-time major yardsticks—the IQ test—now judged unfair. Long suspected, now accepted by the National Education Association that 70 per cent of gifted and creative children (often our future superstars) are missed by a mile in IQ measurements. Further indictment—most teachers admit they prefer not to teach highly creative students because they are too "unpredictable." More evidence of student suffering from education gap—American would-be stewardesses lose out to foreign girls. One major American airline that flies all over the world now prefers to hire multilingual European femmes. They say that U.S. girls can't speak a second language. So U.S. gals suffer because of absurd language lag. This language barrier is a language burier!

Teen knows for News: Recent study shows that young adults from 12 through 25 turn to the front page of their daily paper before comics, sports page or any other department.

Little Girls Lost: Teen-aged boys and girls used to run away in equal numbers, but this year a new and nervous-making trend appears. Girls now run away twice as often as boys. Furthermore, in Los Angeles, this year, four times as many juveniles were reported missing. Hippie lure partly to blame, some say. Others blame the adult community.

Schools Shorten Skirts: Many schools face facts and act in adult manner. Skirts once allowed only one inch above mid-knee now hiked to three inches above. Truth to tell—girls simply couldn't buy long enough dresses in stores. At long last short skirts are respectable. Also culottes, once shunned, will shine as examples of action-wise, modest garb.

Boys Demand Equal Rights: Boy-type members of self-same schools put up hair howl. Say if girls can wear "minis" they can wear "longies," hair that is. Reason? It's fashion. Can't claim, as some have tried, that barbers won't cut hair short enough, however.

The Great Decal Put-On: Teen tattoos are very large this year! Only stick as long as you want them to stick. Not so different from the decals of several decades ago. Strictly for fun!

History-No Mystery: Aristotle described teen-agers as "fickle, hot-tempered, know everything and overdo everything." He also said: "They're more courageous than older men, and their lives are immersed in expectation rather than memory." Not bad for a B.C. fly-by-night philosopher.

The Final Dropout: The bandwagon approach in reporting teen suicides can be dangerous. Some irresponsible speechmakers claim as high as 30,000 a year "drop out" permanently. Suicide Prevention Center in Los Angeles says the truth is closer to 1,500. Inflated statistics make unhappy unbalanced teens think "everybody's doing it."

POWER that sustains may be found thru regular church attendance

"Don't Chunk That Brick!"

...let him who is without sin do it." Of course we live in an imperfect world but we have no right to point a guilty finger. The cynic's seat is filled with accusers. The finger of scorn does but little good. This is the way of the Pharisee, the hypocrite. It is characteristic of a vain, boastful person who thinks everybody else makes mistakes but himself. Are you one of those low-principled, finger pointing, chunk throwers? Then, it is time for you to straighten up and show your compassion for your fellows. The sinner needs your help. He has to be understood. He requires assistance. He must be healed. We are, each of us, our brother's keeper. We cannot afford to betray God, nor our brother. The penalty is too great. The American Indian would ask us to walk a moon in his moccasins before we criticize another. What a plan they used to bridle the tongues of the weak... the boisterous. Neighborliness is at the heart of democracy. Then, since we believe in men, in all men, let us help each other. Let us invite someone to worship with us in church this week.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Modern Techniques Save Many Loose Teeth

 By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: I am only 32 years old and already my teeth are looking long. It seems my gums are leaving my teeth. Should I have impressions taken of my teeth now while I have them so that later false teeth can be made to look just like them?

ANSWER: "Long in the tooth" is a marvelously expressive phrase that was in common usage many years ago. It's a reference to age, often derisive. "My aunt is long in the tooth" might well mean that auntie is getting to be an old fuddy duddy.

Aging is a relentless process that takes its toll of all body tissues and functions. Shrinkage of bone and gums that support teeth is part of that process. Thus, while teeth don't actually grow, they appear longer.

But, at 32, long in the tooth means quite another thing. It means disease of bone and gums—periodontitis, or pyorrhea as it was once known. There are many causes of this disease, which means, of course, that the cause is not fully understood. Much research is being carried on but to date no single cause has been found, although specific organisms have been isolated and general health, heredity, occlusion, position of teeth, mouth hygiene and habits also seem to be involved.

Even though the cause of periodontitis is not fully understood, cures have been effected. It's no longer necessary to sit around and wait for your teeth to fall out and have dentures made. The situation is not quite as bad as the one Victor Borge tells about his father, who discovered a drug for which no known disease has yet been found.

Modern dental techniques have saved many loose teeth that a few years ago were extracted. Bone and gums can't be made to grow back to their previous position but they can be made healthy, and the shrinkage process can be arrested, or at least slowed, so that teeth can be saved for many years.

As for making models of one's teeth so dentures can be made at some future date, it's a great idea and simple and inexpensive to have done. Photographs showing how teeth looked at a younger age can also be helpful.

Please send your questions about dental health to Dr. Lawrence in care of this paper. While he cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

that he had played so as to make seven against that 4-0 diamond break.

His reasoning was good but when the scores came in his six hearts bid, seven made, turned out to be a very poor score.

It just happened to be one of those poor duplicate games and no one reached seven. No one reached six no-trump either and the field divided between six diamonds by South and six hearts with North as declarer.

Poor duplicate or not, everyone knew about the Lightner slam double for an unusual lead. With South declarer at six diamonds East would double for a spade lead. The spade lead wouldn't do any good and South would make his doubled contract.

With North declarer at six hearts, West would double for a diamond lead. He would get to ruff that diamond but North would have no trouble with the rest of the tricks.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The basset horn is not a horn at all, but the tenor member of the clarinet family, says The World Almanac. It derives its misleading name from a clarinet-maker named Horn, who invented the instrument in 1770. The basset horn has the same fingering as the clarinet but is pitched a fifth lower in F. Mozart was particularly fond of this instrument.

Bucks Down Bobcats 8-0 in Dis. Play

BY: RALPH ROUNTON

Star sports writer
On a night with so many upsets that it seemed like Halloween, the Hope Bobcats were the victim of one, as the Smackover Buckaroos handed the Cats their first district loss, slipping by the favored Bobcats 8-0 last night at Hammons Stadium.

other third down play. The clock struck midnight here, though, as the tough quarterback sneaked in for the TD with 9:41 remaining in the game. Holloway's kick was wide right, and Bucks led 8-0. At that point, Hope had run two offensive plays, both from the Cats' one yard strip, since game number two began. The touchdown seemed to renew the Bucks' spirits, and their defense would not allow the Bobcats to penetrate the Smackover 27-yard line for the rest of the contest, as Hope suffered a bitter defeat at our home stadium.

Leading rushers for the Bobcats were Kenny Koen, who carried 14 times for 41 yards, and Buzz Andrews ran 12 times for 13 yards. For Smackover, Mike Holloway led all rushers for either team with 18-66. Next week Hope travels to Malvern to play the 4-AA favorite Leopards, masters of the "bifocal" offense.

Prescott Nips Badgers by 20-0 Score

ARKADELPHIA — The Prescott Curley Wolves played a strong first half behind quarterback Bill Greer to defeat the Arkadelphia Hardin High School Badgers 20-0 here Friday night.

The Badgers stiffened and held Prescott scoreless the last half.

Prescott moved 38 yards in the first quarter to make its first touchdown, scored by Halfback Van Culpepper on a one-yard plunge. The scoring play had been set up by rushes made by Halfback Bill Green and Fullback Danny Jones.

Two minutes later, Arkadelphia had to punt and it was Prescott's ball on its own 35. Quarterback Greer on first play ran 65 yards for a touchdown.

End Ronnie White kicked the extra point.

In the second quarter, a forward pass from Greer to White was good for 55 yards and a Prescott touchdown. White converted for the 20th point.

Arkadelphia was unable to get a drive going in the first half.

In the third quarter, Arkadelphia fought the Wolves on almost even terms. Quarterback Jim Hurley intercepted a Prescott forward pass to stop on drive.

Arkadelphia made its best bid in the fourth quarter, going to the Prescott 36. Later, a first down by rushing was followed by a Hurley forward pass to Halfback Ken Swalm for another first down to the Prescott 25, but a 15-yard penalty stemmed this drive.

Arkadelphia refused to punt in the fourth quarter, choosing to run on fourth down three times and failing each time to get the first down, but still was able to stop further Prescott drives.

The non-conference game was Prescott's third victory of the season against no defeats. It was Arkadelphia's fourth straight defeat.

The Razorbacks' defense will play up to expectations and Ronny South could direct two scoring drives. Arkansas 17, Oklahoma State University 7.

Fashions In Names

They've run a name-popularity test at Ohio State University. If the students there are representative in taste of most young adults, there'll be fewer Ferd's, Isidore's, Eugenie's and Beulah's in future and a lot more Michaels, Jameses, Lindas, Susannes and Kims.

Among both male and female students, these names provoked the strongest aversion and admiration. The Buckeye students were asked to rate names on like-dislike, and masculine and feminine scales. So name you boy Adam or Samson or Bart or, failing these, Dave, Kirk or Michael. The men thought the first three most manly-sounding while the girls liked the last three as most masculine.

The girls thought the most feminine names for themselves were Yvette, Sophia and Sheri. The men stayed traditional, plumping for Sue, Elizabeth and Linda. Both sexes teamed up against Sydney, Ronnie, Jerry, Lou, Alfreda and Billie as non-feminine feminine names.

In the discard pile for male names, Milton and Valentine. Non-preferred female names include Pansy, Pritgoness, Violet, Rose, and Mona.

Fashions in names change, but we've heard that the best test for young parents to apply in choosing a name is to imagine that the baby is now about three years old and is playing outside. Shriek out the name under discussion at the top of your lungs, imagining the effect both on the child, his or her playmates and the neighbors. Many a child has escaped misnaming through this method. Is-dor-r-re! Come in this house. - Shreveport (La.) Times

What's In A Name?

Somewhat going through the names on file in the Social Security System and came upon some unusual appellations. A couple named Cans had, naturally, named their son Tin. And there were the Scotts who named one of their children Great. True Story and Born Young were among others noted. It's hard to believe but the Armonds had a child they had christened Stick.

Which reminded us about the Roysters of North Carolina who named each of their sons for states of the union. One of the Boys, Vermont C. (for Connecticut) Royster, is editor of the Wall Street Journal.

And while we were recollecting we remembered reading one of the early draft lists of World War II from Bamberg County to learn that the son of Mr. and Mrs. Slater had been called to duty. His first name: Legis-Spartanburg (S.C.) Herald.

No Program Says Purcell of WR

HARRISON, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller approved and endorsed many of the bills passed by the 1967 General Assembly, but the legislation wasn't his own, Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell told a civic club here Thursday.

"He (Rockefeller) offered no comprehensive program to the last legislature," Purcell said. "The good and constructive legislation that was enacted was the legislature's own program, sponsored by its individual members."

Inmate Helped Another One

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—No doctor was available and a prison inmate was losing blood rapidly from self-inflicted gashes in each arm.

Then someone remembered Dr. Roosevelt Jackson, a physician jailed for contempt of court growing out of divorce proceedings.

Jackson could find no pulse when he reached the inmate, and no surgical instruments were available. But a sewing machine was nearby.

"They brought me a needle and some white sewing machine thread, and I tied off the vessels," the physician said.

The emergency sutures were replaced at a hospital and the inmate now says he wants to live.

Jackson returned to his cell.

Silvey Again Charged in School Suit

CALICO ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Lizard County Chancery Court has been asked to enjoin T. J. Silvey from serving as superintendent of the Calico Rock School District.

The suit charges that Silvey filled his car with gasoline from the school's pumps, used a school credit card to charge as much as 288 gallons of gasoline and paid membership dues to the state School Boards Association out of school funds.

It also contends that the Calico Rock District's administrative expenses were $2,536 in the 1965-66 school year while those of the Melbourne district of comparable size were $185.

In addition, the suit charges that students were required to buy books containing the theory of evolution.

Huet suffered wounds of both legs below the knees and in his right hand when he was hit by shell fragments. His condition was reported satisfactory.

Huet, 40, fought with the French in Vietnam in the early 1950s, and has been covering the Vietnam war as a photographer for the last five years.

The only requirement for entry is that the work be framed. There will be someone on duty all day Tuesday and until 10 a.m. Wednesday to accept entries. All entries must be in by 10 a.m. Wednesday. If you have something you would like to show, contact Jack Spates, PR7-2426, or bring it by Spates Florist. If you cannot bring it yourself, Jack will be glad to pick it up and return it to you after the show. All paintings may be picked up any time Saturday. The show will not accept responsibility for entries but every precaution will be taken for their safe keeping.

Dorothy Halliburton of Texarkana, who is currently conducting a series of art lessons in Hope on Monday nights at the Spates Art Studio on South Spruce, will exhibit some of her work. Anita K. Peterson, mentioned earlier as the judge of the show, will do some on-the-spot pastel portraits for anyone desiring them. Each one takes about 1 to 1½ hours to complete and can be purchased for $10.

What about this art class in Hope? It was organized a year ago when several local artists expressed a need for one. Under the guidance of its teacher, Dorothy Halliburton, the class has found expression in a variety of ways. The largest painting was a landscape by Jerry Jones (Mrs. Bill), and the smallest was a still life painted on an old board by Mary Stuart Tolleson (another Mrs. Bill). Jack Spates won third place in the recent Four States Fair Art Exhibit with a gate scene on a country lane.

If you are interested in joining the local art class, leave your name and address with one of the attendants at the Art Show next week and you will be contacted later. Whether you are an artist yourself or merely like things beautiful, you'll enjoy the display of local art at the Coliseum.

Mummified Babies Still a Mystery

NEW YORK (AP)—The case of three mummified newborn babies—found entombed in a trunk more than 40 years after they were born—will most likely remain a mystery forever, says Chief Medical Examiner Milton Helsen.

Helpman said after autopsies Thursday that he doubted the bizarre mystery would be solved. "Because of advanced mummification," he said, "we'll never know if they were born dead or alive, or if alive, what caused their deaths."

He said he had no doubt that the infants were newly born when they were swaddled in cloth and neatly wrapped in New York City newspapers dated in 1920, 1922 and 1923.

John Hartnett, superintendent of a 65-year-old, six-story apartment house in upper Manhattan, came across the trunk Wednesday night as he was cleaning out a cluttered basement room. The old-fashioned steamer trunk bore the name of Anne Solomon, who died in 1954 at the age of 54.

Wrecked Ship Could Give Up $5.6 Million

ST. MARY'S, Solly Isles (AP)—A helicopter landed here today with a treasure trove of 1,500 gold coins scooped from the seabed near the wreckage of an 18th century battle fleet.

Ronald Morris, leader of a private treasure-hunt expedition, handed over the coins to the government's Official Receiver of Wrecks who will keep the loot for a year before deciding who owns it.

If no claimant appears it will be sold to the highest bidder and the finders will get 50 per cent. "I shall be glad to hand them over for safe keeping," said Morris, 58, as his divers prepared to look for more money.

The coins were found paying the floor of a cave in the dangerous waters around Giltstone Ledges.

Believed to be the richest treasure ever found off Britain's coasts, they were from the fleet of Adm. Sir Cloudesley Shovell, which sank in foggy, stormy seas 260 years ago. The haul could be worth $5.6 million and may take up to three years to recover fully.

FORT WOTH, Tex. (AP)—Hanna Improvement Co., of Desoto, Tex., was the apparent low bidder for remodeling of the federal office building at Little Rock, Ark., Army Engineers said Thursday.

The firm's bid of $27,760 was one of five submitted on the project.

Hurricane Kills Nine in Texas Alone

By PAUL REGER
Associated Press Writer
RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP)—The greatest mass of floodwaters in three decades thundered down the Rio Grande today imperiling the International Bridge at this border town and promising new hardships for the lower Rio Grande Valley 40 miles down stream.

Torrential rains—up to a staggering 30 inches—also sent crests rolling down scores of other South Texas rivers and streams as Hurricane Beulah, the cause of it all, finally blew herself out against the mountains of northern Mexico.

Some one million persons remained isolated by high water in a 40,000 square-mile area in the wedge of South Texas. The death toll from the 14-day-old hurricane stood at 36—while damage estimated were put at $1 billion. Nine died in Texas.

A deputy sheriff at Rio Grande City said Saturday, "It's going to go" when asked about the International Bridge there. He said the river's floodwaters covered about a fourth of the town shortly after midnight.

"It looks like the river's coming into the downtown area," he added.

Numerous streams in the disaster area continued to spill from their banks today and heavy rains persisted, although they were tapering off.

Some Cotton Harvested

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Agricultural Marketing Service reported Thursday that a small volume of new crop cotton was beginning to show up in early harvesting areas of Arkansas. It said, however, that the crop in northeast Arkansas was about four weeks late.

The first sample of new crop cotton was received and classed by the Blytheville office Tuesday. The sample was ginned by the Tyroneza Ginning Co., and the bale graded strict low middling with a staple of 1 1/16 inches and a mike of 3.9.

Violence Hits Steel Mill Layoffs

CLEVELAND (AP)—More steel mill layoffs, violence on the highways and the use of armed guards marks the continuing strike by rebellious steel haulers.

Armco Steel Corp. used convoys and armed guards at its Middletown, Ohio, plant Thursday for the first big steel shipment this week.

Republic Steel Corp., the nation's third largest producer, continued to cut back operations at its Cleveland works, where more than one-third of the 7,000-man force was expected to be idled by the end of the week. Other firms also reported substantial cutback plans.

The truck owner-operators, members of the Teamsters Union, are fighting for higher hauling rates and want payment for the time they lose waiting to have their trucks loaded at the mills. They have demanded a 6 per cent increase to 79 per cent of the truck hauling fee.

The strike has spread to eight states. Ohio and Pennsylvania mills have been hardest hit.

Highway patrols in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania in the wake of a series of shootings in which steel-hauling trucks have been the major target.

U.S. Planes Pound Gun Positions

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP)—U.S. pilots reported touching off explosions and fires in North Vietnamese gun positions Friday as U.S. Marine casualties grew to 41 dead and 541 wounded for 11 days of heavy blasting back and forth across the border.

Communist barrages killed six Americans and wounded 72 near the Marine outpost of Con Thien Friday in what appears to have become a contest across South Vietnam's northern frontier to see who can inflict the most casualties.

Another possibility was that the Reds hoped to clear the way for a thrust by ground troops.

Twin-engine B57 medium bombers and supersonic F4 Phantom fighter-bombers joined eight-engine B52s in dumping tons of bombs on the hidden red gun positions.

In 71 raids on the demilitarized zone area since mid-August, the B52s have dropped perhaps more than 10 million pounds of explosives. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, has called the concentration of conventional firepower in the area the heaviest in the history of warfare.

Offshore U.S. Navy destroyers also have contributed to efforts to take the Communist pressure off the Marines guarding the northern frontier.

The B57 and F4 pilot reported six secondary explosions and five fires even before the high-altitude B52s started their saturation bombing raids.

In a delayed report, the U.S. Command also disclosed that another 16 Marines were killed and 33 wounded in fierce ground fighting that raged for six hours Thursday a half-mile southeast of Con Thien. The Marines reported killing 22 Communist troops.

In Operation Kingfisher, Marines of the 4th Regiment assaulted an estimated Communist reinforced company—perhaps 150 men.

City Trying to End Spa Contract

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP)—The Osceola City Council passed a resolution Thursday calling for appointment of a committee with authority to negotiate "for an honorable termination" of the city's contract with the Southwest Power Administration.

The resolution was approved 4-1 with one abstention, mirroring the division the issue has created among the six councilmen. The four who prevailed were R. E. Prewitt, D. N. Morris, Ed Teaford and Garner Robbins.

The four are opposed by Ed Chisenhall, who cast the single "no" vote, Ray Morgan, who abstained, and Mayor Charles Wylgul.

Wylgul wants to retain the city's 20-year SPA contract, which becomes effective in December 1968.

The contract provides, however, that the Arkansas Power & Light Co., which would have to agree to a "wheeling" arrangement under which it would relay SPA power to Osceola.

Wylgul has charged that AP&L is pressuring the city to sign a new contract with AP&L, which is to supply the city's power until Nov. 22.

McClellan Gives Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., threw his support Thursday behind an Army Engineer report calling for flood control and drainage work on Lake Chicot.

The Engineers propose construction of diversions and dams to control the silt deposits that have muddled the once-clear lake.

Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., endorsed the $15 million project earlier in the week.
